

2011 Advocates' Guide to Housing & Community Development Policy Now Available!

NLIHC Memo to Members

April 1, 2011

The Advocates' Guide is here! The National Low Income Housing Coalition's 2011 Advocates' Guide to Housing and Community Development Policy provides advocates, policymakers, students, and others with information on the most relevant housing and housing-related programs and issues at the federal level, as well as information related to the community planning process. The Guide can help anyone become an effective housing advocate.

We believe readers will find the Guide to be a useful reference to which they will turn often all year long. To order a copy or inquire about bulk rates, contact Sarah Brundage, Communications Associate, at sarah@nlihc.org.
